McCurdy Tells The Story On The Stand This Morning
In The Insurance Inquiry In New York.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]
New York, Oct. 6.—Robert H. McCurdy was a witness in the insurance case again this morning. He said the finance committee fixes the salaries of the officers. He said the president's salary had not been changed the two years he was on the committee. He did not know what the president's salary was; in fact, did not know if anybody knew.
Hughes probed into the affairs of C. H. Raymond & Co., the New York representative of the Mutual, of which Agent Thiebaud, McCurdy's brother-in-law, is a partner. Mr. McCurdy gave a long explanation as to how he had saved the company forty-seven thousand dollars annually through the supervision of this company alone. Raymond & Co., said the witness, when he became general manager of the Mutual, were doing an annual business of seven million dollars. He was asked how he justified the failure to make inquiries as to how much the firm was making

THE DIRECTORS PUT RAMSEY FROM OFFICE

Frederick A. Delano Is Installed as President of the Railway at New York Meeting.

New York, Oct. 6.—Evidently made apprehensive by the steps taken and the proceedings contemplated by Joseph Ramsey, Jr., to wrest control of the Washburn from the Gould interests at the Toledo meeting, directors of the railroad met Thursday and by a bare majority adopted a resolution removing him from the presidency of the road and installing Frederick A. Delano, vice president, in his place.
Mr. Ramsey received a formal notice that the directors' meeting would be held. When he entered the boardroom he represented a minority of one as against seven other directors who were arrayed against him. Among his opponents were George J. Gould, chairman of the board; Edward T. Jeffrey, president of the Western Pacific; Frederick A. Delano, Winslow S. Pierce, Mr. Gould's personal counsel, Edgar T. Welles and other Gould adherents.
Mr. Gould presided at the meeting. It is understood that the removal of Mr. Ramsey was decided on by the Gould interests, with the object of preventing him from presiding at the stockholders' annual meeting at Toledo on Oct. 10.

RAISE QUARANTINE ON DETENTION CAMP

Patients In Baton Rouge, Louisiana, To Be Released Tomorrow—
Frost Is Wanted.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Baton Rouge, La., October 6.—The yellow fever detention camp which has been maintained here for several weeks will be closed tomorrow. That the quarantines, which are unnecessarily and very inconveniently wearisome have grown intolerable to the people is evident. The efforts of the Louisiana health authorities to persuade those of Texas to modify quarantine restrictions to the extent of allowing persons from this state to travel through Texas with properly signed bills of health have proved futile. Texas will not raise the embargo until the first killing frost comes.

WANTED TO GET RID OF PHILIPINO WIFE

First Lieutenant of Sixth Regular Infantry Is Having His Second Trial Now.

SPECIAL JURY FOR LEADER OF REPUBLICANS CHARGED WITH ATTEMPT TO DEFRAUD

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, October 6.—A special jury was summoned today to try Armitage Matthews, the well-known lawyer and secretary of the Republican County committee. Mr. Matthews is under indictment for conspiracy. It is alleged that he tried to defraud a well-known estate out of thousands of dollars.

TO PUT JANESVILLE ON BASEBALL MAP

President Powers of Wisconsin League Is Undaunted And Will Try Again—Coming Next Week.
President Powers of the Wisconsin League has never given up hope of placing Janesville on the baseball map again. He is coming here next week to have another heart-to-heart talk with the "boys" regarding the possibilities for next year. Certain business men who are ardent devotees of the game have been quietly evangelizing during the past few weeks and it is believed that there is a sentiment here which can be aroused in favor of the project. At any rate the outlook for a Janesville professional team in 1906 is much more encouraging than it was last spring. As far as the material for a nine is concerned the Bower City is believed to possess more first-class home-talent than any other place in the state outside of Milwaukee.
A seat on the New York Stock Exchange was sold for $85,000, a new high record.

ROOSEVELT TO GET GERMAN PROPOSALS

Empire Will Soon Take Definite Action For A Reciprocity Treaty With America.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, October 6.—Word has been received here that the German government's definite proposals to the United States for a commercial treaty will be received here within a few days. These proposals are the result of a request from the State Department which is anxious to know just what Germany wants if the present treaty is unsatisfactory. Consular reports state that Americans abroad are exceedingly anxious to have a reciprocity treaty signed between the United States and Germany, but this seems doubtful. American chambers of commerce, however, have been working toward this end and such an accomplishment would be hailed with delight, generally.

GARFIELD IS AFTER THE RAILROADS NOW

Will Investigate Them Since He Has "Bearded The Beef Trust In Its Pen."
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, October 6.—Commissioner of Corporations Garfield has made ready preparations to "beard the railroads in their dens." He is going to begin in a day or two an investigation of the transportation companies engaged in interstate commerce. This investigation is virtually a continuation of the investigation of the beef and oil industries, for Mr. Garfield is seeking to establish the relation between the railroad and these two industries and he has discovered that there is a common interest between them.

REPUBLICANS WILL RENOMINATE JEROME

New York City "Respectables" Want Him For District Attorney Another Term.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, October 6.—The republicans of this city have everything in readiness for their convention to night, when a candidate will be nominated to run against George M. McClellan for mayor in the municipal campaign. Tammany Hall renominated Mr. McClellan last night, but refused to accept District Attorney Jerome. The republicans, who have fared with the Municipal Ownership League, will, however, renome Mr. Jerome and then the campaign will be fairly begun. The fight for the control of the city promises to be the bitterest in the annals of metropolitan politics.

BALDWIN ENTERED A PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

In Municipal Court This Morning And His Trial Was Set For Monday—Large Gallery There.
Frank Baldwin, the undutiful husband who ran away with Sarah Kenyon and who has been sojourning in the county jail since he was brought back from Chicago about a fortnight ago, appeared in municipal court this morning and through E. H. Ryan, who is acting as his attorney, entered a plea of "not guilty" to the charge preferred against him. A large gallery of curious spectators were disappointed as the court immediately set the trial for Monday. Inasmuch as the Kenyon girl pleaded guilty to a charge somewhat similar in which Baldwin's name was mentioned, the chances for his acquittal by a jury do not look particularly bright at this distance.

INSTALLATION OF THE NEW PASTOR

Impressive Welcome Was Given Rev. J. W. Laughlin, D. D., At First Presbyterian Church Last Evening.
Autumn leaves and myriads of flowers last evening lent their beauty and inspiration to the scene at the First Presbyterian church, where many hundreds of the congregation and friends were gathered to witness the installation of the new pastor, Rev. J. W. Laughlin, formerly of the First Presbyterian church in Racine. Rev. George E. Hunt of Madison delivered the sermon of the evening, taking for his subject "The Church." It was a helpful and uplifting discourse on the duties of the true Christian, delivered with convincing eloquence. The charge to the pastor was given by Rev. T. T. Creswell of Peoria and Rev. W. M. Robinson, D. D., of Chicago, with whom Rev. Laughlin was formerly associate pastor, spoke to the congregation of their obligations to the church and the man they had called as their pastor.
The annual meeting of the Presbyterian synod of Wisconsin will be held in the First Presbyterian church, La Crosse, Oct. 10 to 13.

CROWE SOUGHT GREATER GAME

Omaha Kidnapper Planned To Capture Rockefeller And Hold Him For Ransom.

HIS PARTNER SPOILED HIS SCHEME

After A Visit To Cleveland Where He Procured Plat of Oil Magnates House His Accomplice Lost His Nerve.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]
Butte, Mont., Oct. 6.—Pat Crowe, arrested here Tuesday, furnished another sensation Thursday when he declared that but for the fear of his partner, who deserted him, he would have kidnaped John D. Rockefeller and held him for $2,000,000 ransom.
Crowe expressed considerable regret that he was unable to carry out his bold scheme, as he declared that had he been successful, to-day he would be a million dollars better off and he would be in some foreign country and not in the Butte Jail.
Crowe says the daring plot was hatched in Chicago, and later there was an investigation of Rockefeller's residence near Cleveland. When everything was ready his partner got "cold feet."
Captain of Detectives Henry Dunn and Officer Halstead of Omaha, accompanied by several Omaha newspaper men, reached Butte and identified Crowe. Despite Crowe's assertion of his willingness to accompany them without requisition, Captain Dunn says he will take no chances with Crowe, who will be heavily manacled en route to Omaha.
Tells of Rockefeller Plot.
Regarding the plot to kidnap Rockefeller and hold him for $2,000,000 ransom Crowe said:
"It was immediately after the Cudahy affair that my partner and I never mind his name—were lying low in Chicago, laughing at the excitement over the Cudahy affair. It was so easy that I suggested we go after bigger game, and the result was that within a week we took the train to Cleveland to kidnap old Rockefeller and get the big bunch from the boy."
"Well, we got down there, went out to his home at Forest Hill and sized up the place. It was dead easy. The old man was there. It is a quiet country place. It was a snap, I tell you."
"Well, to get down to business, we planned to hold up the watchman, get into the house at night—we had a plan of the entire place—we fixed it to hustle the old man into a rig and make the young fellow dig. You bet he would have come through so fast it would your head swim."
Partner Defeats Scheme.
"We fixed the thing for Wednesday night. About 6 o'clock my partner said he wasn't feeling well, and he asked me to put it off until the next night. Well, I put it off, and at noon the next day, Thursday, he broke down and got cold feet and said he thought we were being watched right then. That settled it. I began to fear he was going to give the whole snap away about the Cudahy affair, so I lit out for New York and went from there to South Africa, and that was all there was to it."
"Rockefeller is holding up the world and getting his ransom, too. Why shouldn't I make him divide if I have the chance?"
"I'm not the originator of the ransom business. Did you ever read any Roman history. Caesar was the boss 'kidnap' of the world. When he was running the world he used to send old Brutus and some of his generals over to Carthage, grab one of the big kings in that country and make them put up several millions before they gave him back. History is full of the same."
"They call it kidnaping nowadays. In those days it was statecraft."

NO FOOTBALL GAME COULD BE SECURED

High School Team Unable To Arrange A Gridiron Contest For Tomorrow Afternoon.

All efforts to arrange a football game for tomorrow afternoon to be played here or on any other field with the local high school eleven have failed. Communications with Milton college, an attempt being made for a game this afternoon, revealed the fact that the Seventh-day Baptist institution has no eleven this fall. D. D. Manross visited Beloit in hopes of scheduling a contest with the Academy aggregation, but they will play Woodstock, Ill., high school this week. In consequence the high school boys will have no game this week, though some practice work between the first and second elevens may be indulged in. Two dates for "big games" have practically been arranged. These are Fort Atkinson here on November 4 and South Side Milwaukee in Milwaukee the following Saturday, November 11. During the last few afternoons the first team has been helped greatly by its scrimmages with the second. Besides the subs there are playing on this eleven, Caldwell and Galbraith, two of last year's backfield, who are now taking post-graduate studies in the high school, preparatory to entering the University at the beginning of the second semester in January.

A RAMPANT BULL IN THE EXPRESS CAR

Animal Shipped By H. C. Taylor of Orfordville Broke From Crate And Raised Havoc.

Between Orfordville and Janesville this morning the express coach of the Mineral Point-Janesville passenger train of the St. Paul line, in charge of Conductor Leahy, was a pandemonium. Small packages were being tossed about and chickens, freed by the breaking of their crates, were sitting around and sawing. All the trouble was caused by a bull shipped from Orfordville by H. C. Taylor, the stockman. It was confined in a crate when loaded on the car, but the crate was weak and his honor broke out. C. R. Botsford was in charge of the express but he could do nothing but dodge the bull's charges. One of Mr. Taylor's employees, who was accompanying the shipment, was called from the train and the bull quieted and confined before reaching this city. Other than the breaking of the fowl crates and the windows in the coach no damage was done.

BITTER ATTACKS MADE ON GROVER

IS THE OBJECT FOR ATTACKS BY THE WOMEN'S SUFFRAGISTS.

IDEAS CHAOTIC IN EXTREME

Women Hurt By Cleveland's Telling Blow Squal And Complain of
"The Injustice."

While the Gazette does not endorse the following attack upon Ex-President Grover Cleveland, it reprints it at the request of the agent of publicity of the Women's Suffrage League of the United States to illustrate just how radical are their views. President Cleveland is a man of thought and consideration and his recent articles on this subject are worth consideration. He has never evinced haste in preparing articles for the press, nor in his actions and his views on the question should be carefully weighed.

The Article
Hon. Grover Cleveland's recent sweeping onslaught on women's clubs showed that his views about "woman's sphere" are so reactionary as to be quite out of touch with modern thought. After that article, nothing that he may say on the woman question need be taken very seriously. Still, his latest utterance invites some comment.

Mr. Cleveland thinks that woman is "not gifted with the power of clear and logical reasoning," that she "deals mistakenly with practical problems, because sympathy or sentiment clouds her perception of the relative value of the factors involved; that she is 'unbusinesslike,' and occasionally stubborn." Mr. Cleveland's own article affords amusing proof that some of these characteristics are not wholly confined to women.

For instance, Mr. Cleveland during the past few months has had a flood of evidence poured in upon him as to the good work accomplished by women's clubs; but he staunchly says, "I have no intention of modifying the opinions I have expressed relating to women's clubs." It is not women alone who are "occasionally stubborn."

Again, Hon. John L. Shafroth said that not more than one in ten of the persons implicated in the Colorado election frauds were women. Mr. Cleveland says this does not mitigate matters, for "the most gluttonous suffrage-corruptor in the world ought to be a happy sound if he could implicate in bringing about his ends ten out of every hundred voters." Mr. Shafroth said that one-tenth of all the culprits were women. Mr. Cleveland assumes that one-tenth of all the women were culprits, a blunder for which the dullest student in any logic class ought to get a bad mark. It is not women alone who sometimes lack the gift of "clear and logical reasoning."

If Mr. Cleveland could show that more women than men cheated in the Colorado election, he would score a fair point against woman suffrage. If the number of men and women cheating were about equal, it would not be an argument either way. But since election frauds are much rarer among the women, it is distinctly an argument for woman suffrage.

Mr. Cleveland says he "believes it will be found" that the laws are better in the states where women do not vote than in the states where they do. He arrives at his conclusion by the feminine method of intuition; he does not claim to have investigated the matter. Let us see what is said by the men on the spot, who speak from experience.

Mr. Cleveland says: "Of the four states permitting full woman suffrage, Colorado should certainly be considered as affording the best illustration of its results." Judge Lindsey of the Denver juvenile court is perhaps the highest authority in the United States on juvenile courts and the legal protection of children. In a recent address for 1904, Judge Lindsey wrote:

"We have in Colorado the most advanced laws of any state in the union for the care and protection of the home and the children, the very foundation of the republic. These laws, in my opinion, would not exist at this time if it were not for the powerful influence of woman suffrage."

Anyone interested can obtain from the National Woman Suffrage headquarters at Warren, O., two leaflets entitled "Fruits of Equal Suffrage." They contain a detailed list of the good laws that have been passed in the four equal suffrage states by the aid of the women's vote, and give chapter and verse for each.

Mr. Cleveland says that even if every woman voted, the votes of the right kind of woman would be largely outweighed by the undesirable class. Ex-Gov. Warren of Wyoming says, "Our women nearly all vote, and since in Wyoming as elsewhere, the majority of women are good and not bad, the result is good and not evil."

Mr. Cleveland gives some flagrant inaccuracies as to women's school vote. For instance, he says that in 1898 in Cleveland, Ohio, only 82 women registered. The secretary of the Cleveland election board says that in 1898, 5618 women registered and 4891 voted.

At elections where only school officers are chosen, only a fraction of the men ever turn out to vote. The women's school vote may not be large, but it is generally cast for the best interests of the schools. Theodore Roosevelt was asked why he recommended woman suffrage in his message to the legislature as governor of New York. He answered that his home town of Oyster Bay had long been in great need of a new schoolhouse, but they never could get the necessary appropriation until the women were given the school ballot. Then the mothers voted the new schoolhouse at once.

Mr. Cleveland says that the majority of women do not want to vote. Most women are indifferent, but of those who take any lively interest in the subject either way, the large majority are in favor. This was conspicuously shown in the mock referendum on woman suffrage, taken in Massachusetts ten years ago, to which Mr. Cleveland refers. He says only a minority of the women voted yes. He omits to mention that only a much smaller minority voted no. The women's vote stood—yes, 22,241; no, 861. Mr. Cleveland says there were 47 towns in which no women voted yes. There were 258 towns in which no woman voted no; and this although the "Man Suffrage association" covered the walls of every town in the state with large posters urging women to vote no.

Mr. Cleveland says the number of women voting for suffrage was less than the number who sometimes vote at school elections. At school elections the women can cast a legal vote, which may accomplish some thing. On the suffrage question they were allowed to cast only a mock vote, which was to have no legal validity, and was to give the women nothing if the majority went in their favor. Under the circumstances, it was remarkable that so many as 2300 women took the trouble to register and go to the polls.

Mr. Cleveland says suffrage is not a natural right. Dr. James Freeman Clarke says, "If all women were forbidden to use the sidewalk, and complain of the injustice, it would be no answer to tell them that it was not a natural right, but one given by society. A great many rights are given by society, of which, however, it would be manifestly unjust to deprive either sex."

Mr. Cleveland says that not all taxpayers are allowed to vote. If the taxpayer is an infant, an idiot, a lunatic, a felon, a non-resident or an alien he cannot vote, of course. But women are the only large body of taxpayers debarred without obvious reason.

Mr. Cleveland has a great deal to say about God's intentions and woman's "allotted sphere." He is quite sure that the ballot box lies outside it. If the trend of events furnishes any indication of the divine purpose, it looks as if Mr. Cleveland were mistaken. A hundred years ago, with a few inconsiderable exceptions, women could not vote anywhere. Today they vote for all officers except members of Parliament in England, Scotland, Ireland and many of the English colonies, as well as in several countries of Europe; and they have full suffrage in Australia, New Zealand and four of our own western states. Millions of English speaking men and women now have actual, practical experience of woman suffrage. Out of these millions, our opponents have not yet found a dozen respectable men who assert over their own names and addresses that it has had bad results whatever. This is the more remarkable since active Anti-Woman Suffrage associations in New York and Massachusetts have been for years diligently gathering all the adverse testimony they could find. Mr. Cleveland prophesies that "would vastly increase the unhappy imperfections and shortcomings of our present non-voting suffrage," that the bad and foolish women would outvote the good and intelligent, etc., etc. But he does not quote one solitary resident in any suffrage state to show that these results have actually followed. Instead, he quotes triumphantly from an eastern newspaper, Miss Elizabeth McCracken, who, after a short visit to Colorado, declared that the womanhood of that state had been seriously damaged by the ballot. The most highly esteemed men and women in Colorado, from the governor down, have emphatically denied her statements. Mrs. Mary W. Spooner, wife of President Spooner of Colorado college, a woman who has lived in the state more years than Miss McCracken, spent several days there, wrote in the Outlook: "A mass of testimony to the contrary can be quoted from citymen and teachers, whose business, year in and year out, is to note moral conditions."

A statement that woman suffrage works well and that none of the predicted evils have followed has been signed by the governor and three ex-governors of Colorado, by the chief justice and all the judges of the state supreme court, the Denver district court and the court of appeals; by a long list of prominent citizens, including the president of the state university, the state superintendents of public instruction, leading clergymen of different denominations, and the presidents of 13 of the principal women's associations of Denver. Against this we are offered the unsupported assertion of one little eastern tourist. Mr. Cleveland says that woman "deals mistakenly with practical problems because sentiment clouds her perception of the relative value of the factors involved." Mr. Cleveland deals mistakenly with the problem of woman suffrage, as he did with the problem of women's clubs, because his sentimental dislike of any activities for women outside the home clouds his perception of the relative value of the affirmative and negative testimony in the case.

Beginning October 15 the Baltimore and Ohio will run a daily special train of oyster cars between Baltimore and Chicago on passenger train schedule.

A property owner may have damages for injuries resulting from the operation of a railroad, such as the jarring of the earth of his property, the casting of soil and cinders, and the emission of smoke, steam and like injuries which physically affect the corpus of the property itself, says the supreme court of Washington (St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba Railway Company, 51 Pacific Rep. 810) but cannot recover damages for the ringing of bells, sounding of whistles, rumbling of trains and other usual noises and the emission of smoke and odors which are necessarily incident to the operation of the road.

An Atlanta, Ga., despatch states that a lawyer of that city has been awarded a verdict of eighteen cents against the Central of Georgia Railway Company in a justice's court in a case instituted against the railroad as a matter of principle. The plaintiff recently accompanied a lady relative to the terminal station and was refused admission inside the gates, under the rules of the station, unless he could produce a railroad ticket. In order to overcome this rule he purchased a ticket on a suburban train, paying eighteen cents for it and was admitted. He later presented the ticket at the office for redemption, but the road refused to redeem the ticket, claiming that it had been punched by the gatekeeper and was rendered useless. Suit was brought under a printed clause on the ticket, making it redeemable if not used. The probabilities are that the case will find its way to a higher court.

MRS. ANN JONES WAS ONE OF THOSE PIONEERS WHO FIFTY YEARS AGO CAME FROM WALES

Had Lived in Emerald Grove For More than Half a Century.

Emerald Grove, October 4.—After many years of suffering and waiting, Mrs. Ann Jones passed away early last Sunday morning. Mrs. Ann Jones was one of the best known members of the pioneer band who came to seek a home in America. Her husband died about seventeen years ago and two children have preceded her to the better country. All of her surviving children, John A. Jones, David E. Jones, Thomas Jones, Mrs. Mary Ann Jones, Thomas Jones, Susan Kemp, were present at the funeral services. For many years she had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Kemp. Mrs. Jones was eighty-two years of age when she passed on. Her last years were years of weakness and severe illness that entailed much suffering, but while she waited the gentle and living ministers of those who called her mother helped to lighten the burden. She will long be remembered in this community, having lived here upwards of fifty years. She was a devoted member of the Congregational church ever since she came to Emerald Grove and in many helpful ways identified with the community and its interests. Most of her life work was done to her home and in the church. She was a wife and mother whose conception of life and sympathetic service. She was one of those simple souls who succeed in interpreting life's duties as privileges and joys. For five or six years she belonged to those who are shut in with the Lord. The sound of the church bell reminded her of past privileges gladly embraced. Unable herself to respond to its summons, she met the Lord in her home and it thus became the secret place of the Most High. She walked in the light of the Lord. At the foot of the cross she found pardon for sin and a way of life. She passed peacefully, falling asleep in Jesus to join that innumerable company who keep trust with their Lord in the mansions above. A large company assembled at the home and after prayer escorted the remains to the church where funeral services were conducted by Rev. M. E. Davidson. Six grandchildren served as pall bearers, a touching and impressive feature.

Mrs. Ann Jones was one of those pioneers who fifty years ago came from Wales to seek a home in America. Her husband died about seventeen years ago and two children have preceded her to the better country. All of her surviving children, John A. Jones, David E. Jones, Thomas Jones, Mrs. Mary Ann Jones, Thomas Jones, Susan Kemp, were present at the funeral services. For many years she had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Kemp. Mrs. Jones was eighty-two years of age when she passed on. Her last years were years of weakness and severe illness that entailed much suffering, but while she waited the gentle and living ministers of those who called her mother helped to lighten the burden. She will long be remembered in this community, having lived here upwards of fifty years. She was a devoted member of the Congregational church ever since she came to Emerald Grove and in many helpful ways identified with the community and its interests. Most of her life work was done to her home and in the church. She was a wife and mother whose conception of life and sympathetic service. She was one of those simple souls who succeed in interpreting life's duties as privileges and joys. For five or six years she belonged to those who are shut in with the Lord. THE BIRTH of the Genuine Round Oak thirty-four years ago marked the change in heating of stoves from crudity to perfection. No other stove will burn all kinds of fuel with economy, success and satisfaction to the user.

In using coal, for instance, it has a double fire pot with center grate, which prevents the formation of clinkers and gives the hottest fire around the outside of the fire pot, instead of in the center.

It has a hot blast, used for soft coal only.

The air is taken in at the feed door, carried around the top of the fire pot and discharged on top of the openings. This burns the soot and gases, and makes the smoke white, thus a steady, even fire can be maintained with the hot blast alone, burning coal from the top downward.

Then, for hard coal with or without magazine, and coke or wood, it is equally successful.

You simply cannot afford to pass the ROUND OAK by, if you need a heating stove.

Always look for the name "ROUND OAK" on the leg. There are hundreds of imitations.

"Yes, Fritz, you guessed it. That is the Round Oak Office Building. Tomorrow we will see the shops where the Round Oaks are made."

— FORTY YEARS AGO —

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, October 6, 1865.—We are pained to learn that Mrs. Stella Anderson, principal of the young ladies' school, in this city, is lying at the point of death, with very little hope of recovery.

There must be a screw loose about the mailing of the Janesville Gazette. It scarcely ever reaches here till it is two days old and a good many numbers never get here. What is the matter?—Beloit Journal.

We know that the mailing is all right. The subject is respectfully submitted to Brother Burgess.

New Manufacturing Interests.—The company formed for the manufacture of the Clow reaper have purchased grounds near the lower bridge, in the 4th ward, and next week commenced the erection of buildings suitable for the manufacture of this excellent machine. Its merits were so unmistakably demonstrated the past season as to make it certain that this will be a favorite reaper and most with an extensive sale. Every enterprise of this kind inaugurated here is of incalculable value to the place, and we therefore hope that these gentlemen will meet all the success their enterprise merits.

Another article, the invention of a Janesville man—Mr. J. B. Hyzer—is being manufactured by the inventor. It is a radiating heater or stove, the great merits of which are apparent to a casual observer. We know of nothing in the parlor stove line that approaches it unless it be the Key Stone. It will require likely work on the part of the maker to meet the demand for them. He is also constructing a furnace, involving the same principles as the stove, which cannot well be anything but a great heater.

A sufficient number of these manufacturing enterprises will make Janesville what she ought to be—a first class inland town.

Plenty of Rain Water.—We were visited this morning with a copious and refreshing shower, the primary effects of which are visible on the whole face of nature, which has assumed a robe of bright and heauteous green in place of sombre dusky mantle in which she was previously arrayed. But secondary effects are of a still more gratifying character. The prudent housewife rejoices exceedingly in the knowledge that a copious supply of rain has replenished her cistern.

In this connection we are reminded of a "little story" of how an anxious wife residing not far from Janesville, sent out at 3 o'clock of a starlit morning to find her husband, not long since, and when the messenger knocked at his place of business the missing lord demanded to know who was there. When told, and his errand made known, the reply was that he was waiting to catch rain water! There'll be no immediate occasion for such exceedingly early hours, since so generous a shower.

..COMING ATTRACTIONS..

A good many local theatregoers who see the name of Guy Bates Post in conspicuous type as the "featured" leading man in "The Heir to the Throne," will remark upon the rapid rise of that young actor in his profession. Since last seen in "The Rose of Plymouth Town," Mr. Post has played half a dozen creative parts in New York and each one of them added to his reputation as an intelligent, studious and clever actor. Kirke LaShelle gave him his best opportunity for character work as Steve in Owen Wister's play, "The Virginian," and on the strength of his brilliant interpretation of that character, jumped him across the continent from San Francisco to Philadelphia to create Joe Lacy in "The Heir to the Throne." The "featuring" came afterward as the direct result of Mr. Post's sympathetic interpretation of that difficult character.

"His Last Dollar"—The best critics of plays is the traveling man. He is away from home and has no place to spend his evenings but to go to the theatre. He sees everything produced in the larger cities, as well as those in the smaller towns; so he knows a good play when he sees it. And when he tells his customers that a play is especially good and recommends it to them over every other play that he has seen, one can rest assured that it is good, for he is not the man to be easily pleased, and when he is not pleased he usually says so, and advises his friends to stay away. It is very gratifying that all travelingsmen, without exception, have endorsed "His Last Dollar," and have gone out of the way to induce people to go to see it. More than one "Knight of the Grip" has told his people that they have seen the play as many as a dozen times and will see it every time they can, even going so far as to make a special trip to do so. The summer is only one of the many endorsements this play has for the past three seasons. And well they may endorse it, for it is the best racing play on the stage today. "His Last Dollar" will be seen at Myers Grand Tuesday evening, Oct. 10. Since seen here last season there are few changes in the attraction unless it be in the cast, and these are for the better.

MILTON FIRE PROTECTION ASSOCIATION ELECTIONS NEW OFFICERS; DUNN PRESIDENT

Pretty Home Wedding at Residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Anderson

Wednesday Evening. Milton, October 5.—At the annual meeting of the Fire Protection Association held Tuesday evening the following officers were elected:

President—F. C. Dunn. Vice President—W. B. Maxson. Secretary—W. K. Davis. Treasurer—P. M. Green. Chief—G. R. Boss.

A committee consisting of N. O. Moore and P. M. Green was appointed to act in conjunction with a like committee from the department to bring before the village board the necessity of providing fire cisterns.

College vs. Town. The college and town ball teams met on the diamond Tuesday afternoon. Taking into consideration the fact that neither nine had played to gether before they put up a good article of ball and the college did well to score with Place in the box against them.

Delightful Reception. Mr. and Mrs. Miles Rice held a reception at their pleasant home Wednesday afternoon and evening for Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Vancampen of Canby Falls, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Rice and the many friends and acquaintances of Mr. and Mrs. Vancampen were glad of an opportunity to meet them again. Another interesting feature of the occasion was the fact that on that day occurred the twenty-eighth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Rice and also that of Mr. and Mrs. Vancampen, so that the commemoration of both events could be combined with the reception. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant afternoon and evening were enjoyed by all.

Clarke, Crandall. A very pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Anderson, in this village, on Wednesday evening, when their niece, Miss Alice E. Clarke, was united in marriage to Mr. Oscar H. Crandall, son of Wm. Crandall, of Harmony.

Sixty guests gathered in the dainty decorated parlor and as the Mendelssohn wedding march was played by Mrs. J. F. Whitford of Williams Bay, the matrimonial candidates entered the room, attended by Miss Josie Crandall, sister of the groom, and Howard Clarke, brother of the bride, and the ring bearer, Master Elwood Shumway. Standing beneath a floral arch, Rev. Dr. Platt united them in marriage in a well chosen ceremony.

Then followed the wedding supper. Mr. and Mrs. Crandall have a large circle of friends who unite in wishing them a happy and prosperous future. They leave next week for Los Angeles, Cal., which is to be their new home.

Personal Mention. Miss Alice Gifford of Janesville visited Milton relatives this week.

Mrs. Sarah I. Spaulding is visiting her daughter at Grays Lake, Ill.

Mrs. J. F. Whitford of Williams Bay, was in attendance at the Crandall-Clarke wedding and took advantage of her stay here to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Coon.

W. P. Clarke has put a steel roof on his store building.

Mrs. W. C. Daland returned from Pennsylvania Wednesday.

Mrs. C. M. Bliss left for Oxford Thursday.

Mrs. Enggard of Waupun is visiting her sister, Mrs. James Anderson.

ing this week.

The new iron stringers and railing for the Fulton bridges will soon be here. Parties are busy hauling the new hardwood plank for the floor.

Eggs have reached the 18-cent notch at Murwin Bros., the highest price paid at this time for years, and flour dropping a little every day, why shouldn't the farmers be happy?

The men will meet Saturday to repair the horse-shells and make any other improvements at the church and parsonage. All are invited to come.

RHEUMATISM AN INSIDIOUS DISEASE THAT BREAKS DOWN THE STRONGEST

Rheumatism does not come on in a day; the disease becomes entrenched in the system for years. This insidious disease becomes entrenched in the blood, and some exposure to cold or damp weather, or slight indiscretion brings on an attack. Poor digestion, stomach troubles, weak kidneys, torpid liver, and a general sluggish condition of the system are responsible for Rheumatism. Food souring in the stomach poisons the blood, the failure of the kidneys and liver to act properly leaves waste matter and impurities in the system, which, coming in contact with the natural acids of the body, form uric acid. This is absorbed by the blood, and as it penetrates to the muscles, nerves and bones produces the terrible pains and aches and other disagreeable symptoms of Rheumatism. Life is made a torture by its excruciating pains, nerves are shattered, the health undetermined, and if the disease is not checked it breaks down the strongest constitution. It will not do to depend on plasters, liniments, etc.; such treatment is helpful in easing the pain and reducing the inflammation, but does not reach the blood where the real trouble is located. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism by purifying and invigorating the thin, acid blood, driving out all impurities and poisons and sending a stream of strong, rich blood to wash out all irritating particles that are causing the pain and inflammation. S. S. S. stimulates the sluggish organs to better action, tones up the stomach and digestion, restores nervous energy and builds up the entire health. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, whether acute or chronic, and the cure is thorough and lasting. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice desired without charge.

Fair and warmer.

"To fear the worst oft cures
the worst." Some merchants have been "scared into success," having concluded, as a desperate remedy, to "plunge"
in newspaper advertising.

The weather prophets slipped a cog
on predictions this month.
The automobile has come to stay,
but many of the people who attempt to run them will come to grief, if they don't reform.
Collier's Weekly, in another spasm
of virtue, has commenced a campaign against patent medicines, which in the end will result in the best free advertising these proprietary remedies have ever received.
Life insurance company presidents
will be a drug on the market at $25, 000 a year, when the investigation closes. The fact is being disclosed that a fat salary don't always pay for old fashioned honesty.
If Miss La Follette was not the governor's daughter, she would receive less notoriety at the hands of the press, and stand a better chance of getting to the front in her profession.
The United States cannot afford to repeat the experience of the French government in the construction of the Panama canal. Our engineers have already discovered that the enterprise is no plaything and the work at best will be slow and very expensive.
A man was arrested in Milwaukee
the other day as a gold brick swindler. His victims paid $35 for a promised position at the court house, which never materialized. Yet it has just developed that the court house employees are being regularly assessed for campaign debts contracted during the last campaign.
What's the matter with President
McCall's conscience of the New York Life? Nothing but perverted judgment. There are plenty of people with this kind of a conscience. The judgment influenced by education and environment, tells a man what is right, and the conscience prompts him
to do the right as he understands it.
Mr. Wallace, late chief engineer of the Panama Canal Commission, is publishing a series of articles on the magnitude of the work, and incidentally on the lack of intelligent supervision. The government has not yet decided whether a lock or sea level canal shall be installed, and Mr. Wallace claims that this decision is of first importance.
This hue and cry about tainted money belongs to the spirit of socialism with which the age is so strongly tinctured. It is popular to denounce wealth and the men who possess the ability to acquire it, and reform writers and speakers encourage the popular notion that all money is tainted except the long dollars
which are paid for a short day's work.
Mr. Pfister is entitled to an early trial and he is right in demanding it. He has nothing to conceal and if his enemies have anything to disclose they should give an early opportunity. The charge of embezzlement is a serious charge and it should not be held over Mr. Pfister, a day longer than necessary to reach the case.
The Congregational church people are a good deal exercised over the question of tainted money and the matter is being freely discussed by a convention of clergymen now in session at Dodgeville. The missionary society of that church recently declined a gift tendered by John D.
Rockefeller. Mr. Rockefeller is an enthusiastic Baptist and his money seems to be worth par in that society.
THE MADISON LINE.
The outlook for the Janesville and Madison Interurban Line is encouraging, and if Mr. Farson, who visited the city yesterday, decides to take hold of it the people of Janesville can afford to boost and help the enterprise
along.
John Farson familiarly called
"John" by everybody who knows him,
is a capitalist of rare and peculiar ability. He is a common every day kind of a man, approachable and genial, yet a great money-maker as well as a great money spender.

He owns one of the best homes in Oak Park, keeps a fine stable, and three of the best autos that money can buy, is a royal entertainer, and withal a Christian gentleman of the highest type.
Should he decide to build the Madison line, he will be interested in Janesville, and the town can well afford to encourage him.

SHORT CUT IN MULTIPLICATION.
The following short cut in multiplication can be used where the combination of figures, either in the multiplier or multiplicand, contain the figure one (1). The only juggling necessary is when the figure one (1)
is contained in the multiplicand and not in the multiplier; the multipli-cand is then used as the multiplier and the multiplier becomes the multi-plicand. It is never necessary to write either factor, the only figures written being the results.
The three problems and their solutions shown below and the rule that applies when the figure one (1) appears only in the multiplicand cover fully every condition met with; the solutions show all of the figures necessary to be written in working the problems.
No. 1.—Multiply 3,964 by 135.
Explanation:—Set down one time
the multiplicand; then multiply this figure by 5, setting down the result directly under and one place to the right of the first result. Now multiply the first result by 3, setting down
the result directly under the second result and two places to the right of the first result; add these figures, the sum of which will be equal to the result of the multiplication.
Solution:
3964
21712
118820
533364

No. 2.—Multiply 3,964 by $51.
Explanation:—Proceed as before except that the second and third results are set down one place to the left of the preceding result.
Solution:

PRESS COMMENT.
Sheboygan Journal: Cuba is now a full-fledged republic. An attempt has been made to assassinate its president.
Racine Journal: Civilization is making rapid strides these days. The Onondaga Indians raffled off a cake, baked by one of the squaws, realizing $50.
Chicago Record-Herald: In France
the popular name for the automobile is "taut-euf." That is fairly expressive, but "honk-zipp-phew!" would be more so.
Madison Democrat: Governor La
Follette is said to be booked for 40 speeches in the Iowa congressional campaign, which seems to argue a busy time for our neighbors over the way.
Chicago Tribune: John Mitchell is quoted as saying he does not expect any trouble between the coal miners and the operators next year. From which it may be inferred that he thinks the operators will cheerfully
grant the demands he has been stirring the miners up to make.
Appleton Crescent: Houston, Texas,
has adopted a novel law which provides a fine of $100 for any person who makes "goo-goo eyes" at any "woman or female person." We are sorry for the justice who is called upon to define "goo-goo eyes" or explain when a woman is not a "female person."
Fond du Lac Reporter: The next time President Roosevelt takes a hand in the settlement of a coal strike he should make it a point to divide up both mine owners and miners to divide up with the consumer. The price of coal today is out of all proportion to the cost of production. At $6 a ton the miner could earn big wages and the owner big dividends.

Marquette Eagle-Star: The value
and correctness (?) of the Rev. Irl Hicks' prognostications is again shown in his October predictions, when he forecasts snow and storms from the first to the fifth of the month. He has another guess coming as we have had a rather remarkable summer-
like weather so far this month.

Madison Journal: There is a comic opera on in Milwaukee under the title "The Geeser of Geck." No doubt amusement must be provided for an over-worked American people
but an able-bodied man would hate to be found dead in a play house where this sort of thing was going forward. It would at least be an animated obituary sketch.

Iowa's Call to Bob.
Green Bay Gazette: Republicans of Iowa have called upon Governor La Follette to come to their rescue in an effort to down Congressman Hepburn for his alleged sympathy for the railways. The voters of the Eighth congressional district of Iowa claim that Hepburn is looking after the interest of the railways rather than of his constituents and have called on him to resign. It is probable that he will accept as he has never yet been known to refuse an opportunity to take a shot at the railways or their agents.

Lima Resident Celebrated
Her Eightieth Birthday
Lima, October 5.—Grandma Holbrook celebrated her 80th birthday in a very pleasing manner. Several of her friends, young and old, spent the afternoon with her and among other pleasures, features partook of an exceedingly fine supper served by her son's wife.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Elphick's oldest boy, Merrill, aged 8, fell in the barn on Sunday and broke his arm in two places. Dr. Stetson was called and the little fellow made as comfortable as possible.
Orson Truman's many friends regret that he is again confined to his bed by sickness.

Mrs. H. L. Jones of Whitewater came up to attend the birthday party Friday.
Miss Ethel Stetson gave a reading
at the Usher's Corners M. E. church on Saturday evening.
W. D. McComb is moving into the home he recently purchased of Mrs.
Ella Elphick. Mrs. Elphick occupies the house vacated by Mr. McComb.
The Teetoom farm two miles south of town has been sold to Ft. Atkinson parties.
Nine Lowe spent Saturday and Sunday with friends near Johnston Center.
Irwin Godfrey, who has assisted at the ceremony for some time past has gone to Houston, Texas, where he expects employment with the American Express Co.
Mrs. A. Dickerson of Whitewater spent Sunday at Orson Truman's.
Mrs. M. J. Truman entertained at dinner on Thursday. Those present were her sister Mrs. Miller of Milwaukee, Orson Truman and family, Mrs.
Eva Child of Hanover, and Mrs. T.
Collins and daughter of North Lima.
Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Warren of Janesville spent Sunday with Mrs.
Cynthia Gould and Orra.
H. Nugent and wife spent Sunday with friends east of Whitewater.
The wolf hunt on Sunday was not very fruitful. Better try a week day
for it next time.

day and Saturday with her cousin,

Looks Like Trust Tactics.
Superior Telegram: The custom of the fire insurance companies in agreeing on the keeping up of rates is interpreted by good lawyers as a violation of the anti-trust law, especially in states that have well defined antitrust laws of their own. In Ashabua county, Ohio, twenty-eight fire insurance agents have been arrested on this charge, as appears in a press dispatch today in The Telegram. If this view of the case is sustained, as it seems likely to be, the effects will be very far-reaching.

No Solution of Prejudice.
Madison Journal: We are forced to disagree with the Milwaukee Sentinel
in its conclusion that the influence of Jews of New York City are justified in forcing Dr. Dewey the foremost library expert, out of position and usefulness because he ungraciously worked against that race in the conduct of a hotel in which he is interested in the Adirondacks. There is only condemnation for Dewey in this sort, savoring of the power of might are not the solution of prejudice. Like martyrdom, they only kindle fresh opposition.

But One Way to Fix 'Em.
Milwaukee Journal: If the insurance exposures and reforms are to have and practical effect it must be in the direction of reduced rates to policyholders. If the extravagance and waste in past management is to be remedied efficiently, more insurance must be given for the policyholders' money. No other reform can be anything except an empty name.
If the hundreds of thousands of dollars that have been taken in graft and lost in bad investments and the other hundreds of thousands that have been given to campaign committees
as to be turned into their proper channels, the first practical result must be cheaper insurance. The most amazing part of the revelations
lies in the fact that the American people have patiently been paying life insurance rates that are unnecessary
and unjustifiably high.

Literary Note.
Motor Goose Rhymes for Motor Ganders, by Herman Lee Meador, illustrations by "Pal," (The Grafton Press, New York.) is a very clever little book of nonsense rhymes, and equally amusing pictures, making good natured fun of the motorist and his troubles. Every one who has run a car will appreciate the following selection from the "Alphabet":
S is for sparkler
That starts the engine going.
If it is going to spark or not,
There's never any knowing.
There are many more verses dealing with the funny side of motoring and one of the merits of the jokes is that they can be appreciated equally by the motorists and by the man who never hopes to own, or who perhaps never wants to own a machine.
The illustrations are admirable and there are many of them, one on every page of the book, in fact; there are some on the end papers, even. They are by "Pal," the well known car-icaturist of New York, whose work has appeared extensively in the metropolitan papers. The court room scene is excellent, with the stolid, not to say stupid policeman, the indifferent gum chewing judge and the hot,
dusky, irate owner. Also the page,
"G" is for gasoline, where not only the gasoline but the whole machine
has ignited.
The cover design, which, curiously enough, is not by the artist but by the author, Mr. Meador, is really decorative, being thoroughly good both in composition and in color.

New Compartment Observation Cars
An innovation in the equipment of trains leaving St. Paul for the northwest has been made by the Great Northern railway, who placed in service Monday, October 24, on their
"Winnipeg Limited" new compartment library observation cars which are the height of inventive genius in car building. These cars have a large fifteen-chair observation end,
four roomy compartments, drawing room and a carl room. The interior furnishing is rich in the extreme.
The observation room is furnished in vermillion wood, the chairs are upholstered in green leather, and the remainder of the furnishing being in harmony with the general color scheme. The carl room is finished in English oak, and the four staterooms,
which are unusually large, are finished in mahogany, coco, vermillion and tonguin, while the hangings and furnishings are olive, reddish rose, green and maroon plush, in the order mentioned. The drawing room is finished in mahogany and all furnishings are golden plush. The carpets in these cars are all mixed colors and the same throughout. The rear half of these cars is devoted to observation
room handsomely furnished with easy chairs, writing desks; etc.; wide plate glass windows afford unobstructed
views of the surrounding country.
Those who enjoy being in the open air will find comfortable seats on the protected rear platform. New sixteen-section sleeping cars have also been added to the equipment of this train and the finishing and furnishing of these cars are in harmony with the fittings of the rest of the train. It is safe to say that there is no train leaving St. Paul for the northwest that is better equipped for the comfort of the traveling public than the "Winnipeg Limited." Quick time, the excellent service and the fine equipment make the trains of the "Winnipeg Limited" the "Comfortable Way" between the "Twin Cities," intermediate points, Winnipeg and the Canadian northwest.

OFFICIAL NOTICE

ANNUAL CITY TAXES.

Published by authority of the common council of the city of Janesville,
Office of the City Treasurer, Janesville, Wis., October 24, 1905.
To Whom It May Concern:
The tax rolls and warrant for collection of city taxes for the year 1905
are now in my hands for collection and all persons interested are requested to make payment thereof at the office of the City Treasurer in the city of Janesville, or the same will be collected at the cost and expense of the persons liable for the payment of said taxes.

JAS. A. FATHERS,

Treasurer City of Janesville.

Worth Considering.

You know how heavy the fall expenses for the family will be. Shoes for the boys; heavy underclothes for all, cloaks, caps and everything to call for money.

Teeth to fill also, whose aching demands cannot be put off. This being the case why not employ a dentist, this time, who is not bound to high prices by a membership in the local combine.

On your family dental bill you can save half and be sure of getting the best service that fifteen years' practice and experience can give.

Besides, you are consulting a dentist who makes it a specialty to do your work painlessly.

It is a common occurrence for patients to get out of Dr. Richards' chair and heartily thank him for doing their work EASIER than had been their experience EVER before with dentists. Offices over Hall & Sayles' jewelry store, Janesville, Wisconsin.

MORTUARY NEWS

Scott W. Fisher
All that remains of the late Scott W. Fisher was tenderly interred in Oak Hill cemetery this afternoon, the funeral being held at two o'clock. The ceremonies were conducted by Rev. R. C. Denison from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Crowe at 302 Center avenue. The song service was rendered by Mrs. C. P. Yates and Cove Van Kirk. The attendance was large and the floral offerings profuse and exceedingly beautiful. Each class in the high school, in which the deceased was a student, was represented by a delegate: George McGee from the senior, William Poenichen from the junior, James Roberts from the sophomore, and John Sheridan from the freshman. The faculty was also represented. The Forum boys, Mr. Fisher being a charter member of the society, were present in a body. Among the floral tributes were sprays from the classes of '07 and '08 and the Laureate literary society, of which Miss Hazel Fisher, sister of Scott Fisher, is a member. The pallbearers were Llewellyn Cannon, Archie Withersell, Howard Bonesteel, LeRoy Eller, Frank Nelson and Harvey Bailey.

BRIEF NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Verdict for Stockman: A verdict of $7.14 for the plaintiff was returned last evening by the jury which tried the action of Hugh Stockman vs. C. D. Wikom in Justice Reeder's court. Stockman sued to recover about $40 in wages which he claimed were never paid and the defendant put in a counter claim for about $65 damages to horses and a vehicle, which the plaintiff was alleged to have injured by careless handling.

Danced at Assembly Hall: There was a good attendance at the dance given in Assembly hall last evening by the employees of the Rock County Sugar Co. Kneff & Hutch's orchestra furnished the music and the festivities continued until a late hour.

Goes to Clinton: W. W. Dalton, who for several years has been the London representative of the Deering Harvester Co., has opened a farm machinery store in Clinton.

Talk of Moving: The Western Shoe Company is contemplating removing their factory from Janesville to Milton and Milton Junction, located between the two towns. The business men's association of both towns are seriously considering offering them a bonus.

Sold Hotel Interest: Bert Van Houten has sold his interest in the Empire Hotel to William English.

On "Vanity Fair": Rev. R. C. Denison will preach Sunday evening on "Vanity Fair" instead of "Adam Bede." Owing to some confusion in the announcements a number of people gained the impression that the latter was to be the subject discussed.

Sent Notification: Mrs. James Mortough of 258 Mineral point avenue was probably the first to discover the fire on the bridge of the St. Paul railroad company west of the city, where Miss Hattie Lenz flagged a freight train Wednesday afternoon, saving five lives and much valuable property. Mrs. Mortough and Mrs. Viney were hunting hickory nuts when they noticed the smoke and walked a mile to Mr. Austin's residence on the extremity of Pleasant street, where they telephoned in the notice of danger. Meanwhile Miss Lenz had stopped the train.

20-Mule Team Coming: Tomorrow noon or shortly before that time a 20-mule team hauling wagon and advertising material for the Twenty Mule Team Borax company will arrive here from Edgerton in charge of H. L. Harris, manager of the outfit. The great string of long-eared animals will be guided by "Borax Bill" with a single jerk line and in the afternoon will cavort about the streets of the city. The team travels overland at the speed of three miles an hour.

Tom Baker is Stricken: Thomas Baker of 401 South Bluff street was stricken with paralysis yesterday morning.

Marriage Licenses: Applications for marriage licenses have been filed recently by Frank L. Cole of Mauston and Clara Glass of Janesville; William J. Kennedy and Mary E. Barnes, both of Beloit; Lloyd Hubbard and Olive J. Sperry, both of Evansville; Edward Erslund and Alma Seraphia Johnson, both of Beloit; Frank Woodcock and Mary L. M. Brower, both of Janesville; Walton H. Rathbun of Brodhead and Mrs. Elizabeth Neaville of Rock county; Gilbert E. Potter of Chicago and Erma Day of Rockford; and Emil Lux and Martha Wilmet, both of La Prairie.

CLAYTON E. UDELL WAS WEDDED TUESDAY EVENING

To Miss Alberta Stevens—Beloit Attorney Well Known in Janesville.

Clayton E. Udell, a young attorney who has many friends in Janesville, and Miss Alberta Stevens were quietly married Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. L. Stevens, in the city of Beloit. Rev. R. W. Bosworth of the Methodist church performed the ceremony. Teachers of the Gaston school, where the bride was formerly principal, were among the invited guests. Mr. and Mrs. Udell left on the 10:30 train for Janesville, their ultimate destination remaining a mystery to their friends.

Cloak Makers' Union of New York City is preparing to demand a new and increased wage scale and recognition of the union.

Laundry workers of Carbondale, Pa., went on strike against the open shop and started a shop of their own.

Japanese labor in Colorado earns 78 cents a day and lives on 12 cents. American labor earns $2.50 and lives on $2.

The third annual convention of the Oregon State Federation of Labor was held recently in Portland.

DRAMA "PARSIFAL" WITHOUT THE MUSIC

Was Presented To A Good Sized Audience At The Myers Theatre Last Evening.

"Parsifal" the drama, as adapted by William Lynch Roberts, who was responsible for the melodramas, "On the Bridge at Midnight" and "Big Hearted Jim," in which George Kilduff appeared here on August 17, is so far removed from "Parsifal," the musical drama, translated from the original text of Richard Wagner by Marguerite Glyn and produced in English by Henry W. Savage's company of 200 last season, that comparison is manifestly unfair. Yet it might have been hoped that the incidental music, at least, which accompanied last evening's presentation at the Myers theatre, might have more adequately conveyed the great, stirring motifs of the master composer. It is possible that a wide gap separated the English production from the original first produced at Bayreuth, but the message of Wagner's music, at all events, underwent no appreciable change. Last night's music was incidental in everything the word implies. What there was of it was largely as colorless and uninspiring as that of some of the hymns occasionally heard in some of the churches.

The principal figure of the drama is familiar to those acquainted with English literature as "Percival." Tennyson refers to him in his "Holy Grail" as the "Sir Percival, whom Arthur and his knights called the Pure." The name has undergone several changes since its first introduction into literature. The librettist tells us that it is called Percival in the Welsh tales which preserve the oldest accounts of the adventures of King Arthur and his knights of the Round Table; other spellings have been Percival, Parsifal, and Percival. Wagner adopted his from Parsifal on the theory that it is derived from the two words "fai" and "parsi," said to signify "foolish pure one" in the Arabic.

According to Wagner, the castle of Monsalvat in the north of Spain is the temple of the Holy Grail and the dwelling of its knights. The Grail is the cup from which the Saviour drank at the last supper, in which afterward his blood was caught when Longinus pierced his side as he hung on the cross. Titorel, to whose care the cup and spear were first committed, has built a sanctuary for the sacred relics. They are guarded by a body of knights who are required to preserve their purity in order to share in the benefits which accrue from the adoration of the relics.

In the valley beneath Monsalvat the enchanter, Klingsor—he is called Klingsor in the Robert's version—has erected a magic castle and garden. He wages against the knights of the Grail because he, for his sinfulness, has been refused admission to their number, and he devotes himself to the task of trying to corrupt them. Amfortas, the son of Titorel, and the present custodian of the Grail, is seduced by the charms of the sorceress, Kundry, who is under Klingsor's power, and is not only robbed of the Holy Spear but wounded by it in the struggle. The wound will yield to no known remedy but the Grail oracle has declared that healing shall come through a "pure fool" wise through fellow suffering. Parsifal appears on the scene as a shepherd boy; goes forth on a journey which leads him into many temptations, resists them all, and finally recovers the spear which Klingsor in his desperation at the failure to snare the youth and deliver to Satan the third soul which shall release him from his bond, huris at him. The spear is supposed to stop in mid-air as it reaches Parsifal. Last night it got away from its moorings and tumbled to the floor. Upon his making the sign of the cross the castle of Klingsor is supposed to crumble. Last night it required considerable assistance. All these details are to be expected of a third-night production which carries such elaborate and intricate scenery. Having secured the Holy Spear, Parsifal returns to Monsalvat on a Good Friday, forgives the penitent Kundry, heals Amfortas, and is made king of the Grail.

Mr. Dashiell as Klingsor, the Black Knight, has a fine voice and an excellent conception of his part. His scene with Satan in his castle of evil is an absorbing moment. Miss Eva Taylor as Kundry—"Hell's rose-blossom," a strange character who is half wicked sorceress and half penitent Magdalen—succeeds more admirably in her portrayal than any other member of the cast, in the opinion of those who witnessed the performance last evening. There is much in that musical, alluring and at the same time repelling laugh to which she gives so frequent utterance during the earlier moments of the play. Miss Taylor was formerly of the Tharhauser Stock Co., Milwaukee, and the idol of its following. Mr. Priest is acceptable as Amfortas and Mr. McCormick performs the part of Sir Guenemanz very well. Mr. Grafton is excellent as Parsifal. The flower girls are good and the balance of the cast does mediocre work. The production is elaborately staged; the costumes beautiful, and the lines at times very good. The audience was fair sized and well-pleased.

ICE IS SCARCE AND CHICAGO NEEDS IT

Local Concern Also Is Seeking To Increase Its Present Supply For Customers.

Heavy Tail of the People's Ice Company is today visiting adjacent cities seeking to purchase a supply of ice to increase their present holdings. The line and cry for more ice comes from Chicago, where the big ice concerns are scouring the country over, seeking to buy ice to be able to continue their supply. There is danger of an ice famine in that city and the search for ice throughout the state brings out the fact that the majority of Wisconsin cities are also short.

INQUIRIES INTO THE LAKE FIGHT

United States Official Takes Up Action of American Fishermen.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 6.—Acting on authority given him by Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw, Charles F. Leach, collector of customs for the port of Cleveland, will take a hand in the work of putting a stop to depredations of American fishing tugs in Canadian waters and sailed from Detroit on the Revenue cutter Morrill for a cruise over the lake fishing grounds in search of boats carrying fish caught in Canadian waters. He will take into custody all fishermen and cargoes found to be in violation of the United States customs laws.

Loses Head Under Train.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 6.—An unidentified man was decapitated in the yards of the Iron Mountain railroad here, having jumped under a moving freight train with suicidal intent.

Organizers for the United Mine Workers are busy in the Irwin, Pa.

field, establishing local unions. They say there are 10,000 unorganized men in the Irwin field, and that they have been more successful in getting the men into line during the last few weeks than at any time since the region became non-union—twelve years ago. There were three local unions a year ago; now there are thirty.

Bank Robbers Get $5,200.
Springfield, S. D., Oct. 6.—Burglars entered the bank of Springfield at 2:30 a. m. and blew open the vault door. The marauders took $5,200.

The "Favorite" a Money Maker

The stove that saves money in coal bills is the stove to buy.

The stove that gives the greatest heat from the least coal is the one that saves money. Money saved is money made; that's why we say the "Favorite" is a money maker.

Two tons of coal will last all winter if you use a Favorite Base Burner.

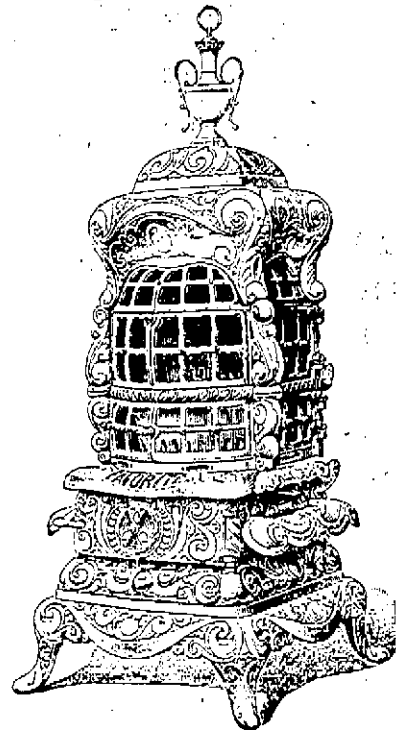

So scientific is it in its construction that every atom of heat energy is controlled and distributed with such uniformity as to vary but a degree or two in an entire day. Tests have proven that with the improvements and additions that have been made to the radiating surface, the Favorite Base Burner will heat double the space of other base burners, and uses about one-half as much coal to do it.

OUR GUARANTEE!

We will place this stove in your home for a whole winter on trial, that you may know just what it will do. Your money back if the Favorite does not do just as claimed.

We will guarantee to meet any first-class mail order house competition, quality considered. Mail orders promptly filled.

Favorite Base Burners
$34.00 and up.
